WaudWare Launches Long Awaited Production Module
for Produce Industry Software: PICS

Brampton, Ontario - The produce industry is excited and enthused with WaudWare's release of its new Production module for PICS (Produce Inventory Control System).

"This has been a long time coming", said F. Charles Waud, president of WaudWare. "Up until now, companies have never been able to accurately track the costs and goods they use when assembling packaged and/or processed food … now they can!" With pin point precision, the new Production module provides the robust features that produce companies are looking for when addressing these profitability and performance issues:

► flexible production types for example, 'one to one', 'one to many' and/or 'many to many' work orders, along with regular or static lot items

► accurate costing that flows from the original purchase orders right down to finished items regardless of the number or type of work orders in between

► easy to create and manage bill of materials

► intuitive inventory tracking that specifies "being produced" "to production" and "available for sale" along with real time updates for incoming raw materials

► down to the minute labour and overhead cost tracking
